Partha Sarathi Chatterjee

Head of Data and Analytics for Shell Energy at Global Shell Trading and Supply IT; a global expert in energy and trading risk management (ETRM) systems, risk management and trading analytics, regulatory compliance, and governance

My inspiration behind my present career choice

Creating new technologies that improve the quality of life and make the world a better place to live in.

One word or term to describe me as a student

Curious about first principles and passionate about subjects that inspired me.

The subject I used to like the most in School

Mathematics and Physics.

The subject I used to fear the most in School

Biology, but "annoyance" is more appropriate than "fear".

The one teacher from School who made the most lasting impression on me

Shri Anjan Dasgupta and Shri Shyamadas Mukherjee.

My most favourite memory of South Point

So many memories, but playing soccer and hand cricket at the School lawn before and after school hours are particularly fond memories.

My favourite hobbies/pastime when I was a child

Playing and watching sports.

Had I not been in my present career, I would have been...

A mathematician.

Role of parents in their child's choice of career

Absolutely paramount, not so much in the career choice but to shape one's life. Personally, I followed their actions more than their words. Their sacrifice and burning desire to help me become the best I could be in whatever career I pursued are the main reasons for what I am today.

To the present South Pointers, I would like to say this

Stay curious, stay hungry, always question things, learn every subject from the first principles, and don't lose your sleep over grades. Find your strengths and follow your dreams with passion and hard work. Life is long, so keep your wits about it. Make friends, stay humble, be happy, and spread your joy among your loved ones.
